

After Empire: British and Irish Women's Fiction in the Twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries

English 4663/6663
Kelly Marsh

Fall 2010
T/Th 11:00-12:15

In this study of major British and Irish women novelists since 1900, we will read

Virginia Woolf's Mrs. Dalloway (1925)
Elizabeth Bowen's The Last September (1929)
Muriel Spark's The Girls of Slender Means (1963)
Doris Lessing's Martha Quest (1964)
Jeanette Winterson's Sexing the Cherry (1989)
Angela Carter's Wise Children (1991)
Zadie Smith's White Teeth (2000)
Monica Ali's Brick Lane (2003)
Andrea Levy's Small Island (2004)
Lucy Caldwell's Where They Were Missed (2006)

In addition to the reading, the requirements for this course are two ten-page research papers for undergraduates/
one twenty-page research paper for graduate students, summary and analysis of scholarly articles, and two exams.

